Leadership and Management: Developing and Guiding an Effective Board of Directors

Friday, June 21

10 am - 3 pm

Schuyler Room, Town of Saratoga Offices
12 Spring Street, Schuylerville, NY 12871

Does your organization struggle with the balance between governance and staff/volunteers? Are there misunderstandings in terms of expectations and workload? Do you find some board members are unengaged while others are micro-managing? This workshop, presented by Susan Weinrich of New York Council of Nonprofits, Inc. (NYCON), defines roles and responsibilities of board members, executive directors, staff and volunteers to build understanding and partnerships that further the organizational goals. The workshop includes legal and fiduciary responsibilities, policy and monitoring functions; accountability; effectively balancing responsible board oversight with day to day staffing and operational roles; and building a motivated and engaged board of directors.

The workshop is sponsored by Lakes to Locks Passage, a nonprofit organization that manages a scenic byway from New York's Capital Region to the Canadian border--with a mission to inspire people to discover, honor, celebrate and share the heritage and stories that connect our lives and to foster vibrant communities for future generations.

The workshop is $15 per person, payable by cash or check, and includes lunch and materials. Pre-Registration is required.

To register, please email Anne Clothier, the Lakes to Locks Heritage Program Director at anne@lakestolocks.org.

Presenter Bio:

Susan Weinrich, Senior Vice President of Organizational and Community Development

Susan has over 25 years of experience working with nonprofits as an advisor, teacher and consultant and has been at NYCON since 2003. NYCON's members rely on Susan's expertise to provide them with a wide range of training and technical assistance in areas such as organizational assessment and development, strategic planning, board development, and performance measurement, as well as community needs assessments and program development. Susan is skilled at working with a diverse array of nonprofits and is mindful of how their size, scope and the type of service they deliver in the community impacts their organizational culture and their approach to capacity building efforts. Whether a nonprofit organization is run solely by a volunteer Board of Directors, or has a professional staff in addition, Susan tailors her specific approach to the unique needs of her client nonprofits. Susan's knowledge of the nonprofit sector comes from her hands-on experience with organizations that provide housing, emergency shelter, and domestic violence services as well as those that offer a range of community economic development programs, including arts organizations and museums. Susan has served on several local and national Boards and currently serves on the Board of the Sanctuary for Independent Media in Troy, NY. Susan has a Master's degree in Community Economic Development from the Southern New Hampshire University.
